TEACHER CAPACITY BUILDING PROGRAMME

First Edition - November 2020

WHAT WILL WE BE DOING IN THE NEXT 3 WEEKS?

What are the objectives of the training?

By the end of the training we will:

- ✓ Define what is (and what is not) a participatory process in school.
- ✓ Identify the level of participation, motivation and involvement of students in your school.
- ✓ Identify power structures in the classroom and at school, why they occur and how they influence the dynamics of daily school life.
- ✓ Understand what is facilitation (and what is not) and its potential in a participatory space.
- ✓ Recognise in which areas student participation is allowed and in which not, and analyse why.
- ✓ Reflect on what is a comfortable and safe(r) space for students and how to generate it.

NEXT TIME IN BARCELONA!!

How is the training structured?

The training consists of an introductory module + three formative modules + a final evaluation module. Every formative module is divided into two parts:

(1) Autonomous work

It will consist of some readings, some activities to carry out with your newly selected group of students (the Fellowship) and some exercise to write up. You will spend roughly 3 - 4 hours per week and you have flexibility to adapt it to your schedule.

For this work, we strongly recommend you to plan in advance dedicated time with your group of students during the three weeks of course. You should foresee ideally a couple of hours per week with your Fellowship during the three weeks of the training period. Given the Covid-19 restrictions, you can of course plan these sessions to take place through online video calls if you wish to do so.

(2) Online workshops

They will be developed through the Zoom platform for three consecutive Mondays starting on November 9, 2020, from 14h to 17h CET.

Baseline Survey ¹²

Readings

 TIME ALLOCATED: 40 minutes + 75 minutes.

Read the four initial chapters of the co-creation manual.

Also, have a time to read the mandatory documents, which will give you a deeper understanding and knowledge about participation, facilitation and power.

AUTONOMOUS WORK FOR TODAY / part 2

Exercise

 TIME ALLOCATED: 45 minutes.

Analyse the case of your school: in which areas is the participation of students in decision making allowed and in which areas is it not? You could think, for example, on content of classes, specific pots of budget, use of school's physical space, extra curricular activities, evaluations.. etc.

Try and analyse why this could be, and write down your reflections and comments. Your answer will be anonymous but if you feel comfortable, you will be able to share your response with the group in the online workshop.

WHAT IS IT?

CONTEXT ANALYSIS / 1

WHAT WILL STUDENTS PARTICIPATE IN?

Each school is (probably) already independently assessing what is the “perimeter” of action of the participatory processes to be deployed in collaboration with their student population.

That is: schools involved in the BePart process are already identifying “what” students will be participating in and what are the areas that can be worked on.

How can we make sure that this identified “perimeter” of action is informed by a structured understanding of the school context, coherent between the 4 schools?

CONTEXT ANALYSIS / 2

WHAT WILL STUDENTS PARTICIPATE IN?

Thanks to this exercise, your understanding of the characteristics of the school can be synthesised and simplified, ready for it to inform the participatory process and for teachers to have an idea about the areas to work on.

You don't have to reinvent the wheel! Most of this information is already available at your school level.

Some of it requires you to carry out a personal reflection.

YOU CAN WORK ON THIS TOGETHER AS TEACHERS FROM THE SAME SCHOOL!

CONTEXT ANALYSIS / 3

HOT TOPICS. The analysis of the school context helps teachers identify what they think are the “hot topics” that are alive in the school. These are issues / aspects that the student population feels strongly about. Identifying these topics can be a good starting point for supporting students in assessing what the needs of the student population are, in order for the participatory process to be centered around these concerns.

NEW SPACE FOR CONCERNS. This step can also be a chance for teachers and students to address areas of work that they don't usually have time to work on, due to their busy schedules and to school priorities.

WHAT NEEDS DO STUDENTS HAVE? Once the perimeter of action has been defined, thanks to the context analysis, it will be time to explore what are the needs that students have and that could be tackled through the participatory process within the scope of action. (Homework the following session: run a needs assessment session with your students!)
